She looks young. Is she new?

Hey, long time no see.
Looks like your company is doing well.

Yeah, well, you have a great office, too.

Well, we've been losing money...

I hear that. By the way...

Is she new?

Isn't she pretty?

That's why I hired her as a secretary.

She's still a student, though.

Oh, come on. That's why you're going into the red, isn't it?

Well, well, well.
Then, let's start the business meeting.
Yeah, let's get started.

The business meeting went well.
I guess I'll have to come back here
a few times over the next while.

At School

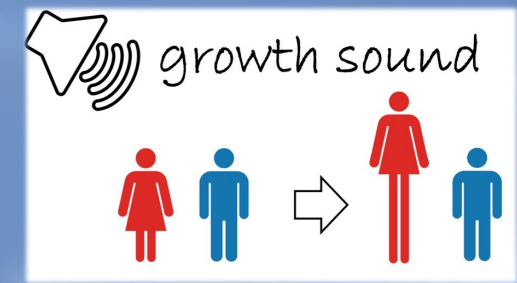

I hear strange noises coming from the classroom...

We will show you the way.

Oh, thank you.

Good day, sir.
I'll go home first.
Yeah, ok.

(She's bowing, but she's just as tall as before...)

(She is growing.
No doubt about it. ...)

Was she that tall?

They say she' s growing.

She' s still young and growing up.

She' s learning quickly and excelling at her job.

At first she seemed to be struggling because she couldn't do the job, but...

In no time at all, she's able to do everything.

We're looking forward to seeing her grow in the future.

Yeah, I agree.

Now, let's start today's business meeting.

But first, I can't help but wonder about her growth.
Indeed, I'm surprised at you, too.

Almost the same height.
Yeah, except the face is a lot different in size.

She's grown tremendously in her work skills, too.

She was just listening in the back at first.

Now she's up front, and she's getting difficult negotiations done.

You're free to use the company budget
as you see fit.

Thank you.

(Free budget means she's trusted.
That's how much potential she has.
I can't wait to see what she can do in the future.)
